Public School Lecture Course.

The Oelschlagel Concert company is an all-star company, consisting of a violinist, a soprano and a reader. Christian Oelschlagel, violinist, received his training with the best teachers of Germany, his native country. While capable of playing the most difficult selections from the great masters, he delights also in catering to the popular taste, and never fails to please the most exacting critics and to win the applause of every one.

Miss Cora Saltonstall, soprano, has a very sweet, sympathetic and powerful voice, and her notes are clear and distinct. She is always a favorite with her audience, and her selections are well chosen as well as varied in style and character.

Lulu Tyler Gates is undoubtedly the best reader before the American public. She possesses more than ordinary talent, or rather an extraordinary gift for recitations, and is spoiled by none of the mannerisms of the ordinary elocutionist.

The English language is not rich enough to describe this concert. It must be seen and heard to be appreciated. Remember the date, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at Central Hall. Admission 35 cents.

A CANNING FACTORY.

Yale Can Get One If a Long Pull, a Strong Pull and a Pull All Together is Made.

Wm. V. Andrae and E. B. Fuller, learning that the Port Huron Canning Company was looking for a new location, boarded the train last week Thursday morning and visited the officers of this company in Port Huron. Receiving the promise of Vice-President and Manager Staff that he would visit Yale the following Wednesday, our townsmen returned home feeling that they had been amply repaid for the trip to Port Huron.

Friday evening the business men and citizens of the town assembled in Central Hall and elected W. V. Andrae, chairman, and Porter Harris, secretary-treasurer. It was decided to make this a permanent organization for the advancement of Yale's interests and a fund was raised to defray expenses. A committee consisting of W. V. Andrae, E. B. Fuller, Geo. McIntyre, Harvey Tappan and J. A. Menzies was appointed to receive and entertain the members of the Port Huron Canning Co. on their arrival, and to advertise the mass meeting for Wednesday evening, November 13th.

At the meeting held in Central Hall, Wednesday evening, there was a large turnout and a lively interest was manifested. E. B. Fuller was made chairman and Grant Holden secretary. The gentlemen from Port Huron who addressed the meeting were J. F. Staff, and E. B. Bloodgood, both presenting the many advantages to a town and the surrounding country of a canning factory. Mr. Staff is a practical man and thoroughly understands the work.

A bonus of $10,000 and five acres of land suitable for a site is asked. The promotion of this proposition was left in the hands of Messrs. Andrae and Fuller and they are at work soliciting subscriptions. If everybody will donate their share there is no question but the bonus can be raised.

Was She Guilty?

That meritorious organization known as the Edna Farrell Stock company, headed by the charming emotional actress, Miss Edna Farrell, is to play an engagement in Yale, commencing next Wednesday evening, Nov. 20th, at Central Hall, and continuing for four nights, with a matinee on Saturday.

This will be a treat for our theatre-going people, as this is a first-class company in every particular and play only in the cities, and their repertoire is composed of some of the best plays, all of which have had New York openings. They will give for the opening performance that fine comedy-drama in four acts, entitled "Was She Guilty?" This beautiful play appeals to the tastes of all, and Miss Farrell will be seen in the dual role of Beatrice Willard and Mrs. Wm. Danforth, of which the Jamestown Call says: "The heroine of the piece found an excellent exponent in Miss Farrell, an emotional actress, who has appeared here before has many admirers in this city for her admirable work, has re-established herself in the favor of our theatre patrons, and all were glad to welcome her here again. The play, "Was She Guilty," was the story of a good woman wronged and later re-united and made happy, but it was told in a new way and by charming people, and with sprightly action. Between the acts were several vaudeville features, which were thoroughly appreciated by the large audience. The company deserves the liberal patronage of our theatre-goers."

The prices for this engagement are 10, 20 and 30 cents, and large audiences should greet them. Reserved seats now on sale at Holden's drug store.
